

Avondale College Library

Lake Macquarie Campus

Alumni Membership

The Avondale College Library and its associated entities – the Ellen G White/Adventist Research Centre and the Adventist Heritage Centre - house a rich collection of valuable resources. While the Library's services and resources are designed primarily for the use of Avondale College staff and students, it has long been recognised that alumni could also benefit from their use.

As a former student of Avondale College, you are invited to use the following Library resources and services free of charge:

- Personal access to the Library's general collection.
- Personal borrowing of up to 7 items at a time, for a period of 14 days, with one renewal.
- Use of the Library's online catalogue
- Use of the Library's computers to access the Library's electronic resources in accordance with vendor licensing agreements. Access is available to users in the library building only via a specially allocated user name and password. NB. Current students have priority for computer use
- Alumni access to ATLA Serials database from off-campus

Terms and conditions of use:

- Library services for alumni only apply to the Library on the Lake Macquarie Campus of Avondale College.
- You are the only person registered and able to use your card and your user name and password.
- Your borrower's card must be produced each time a library item is borrowed.
- Library items must be returned to the College Library, either in the slot in the loans desk, in the after hours return chute or by mail on or before the due date.
- You have full responsibility for any costs incurred by the Library in the return, replacement, or repair of any items borrowed.
- You have full responsibility for notifying the Library of any change of address.
- You may use all areas of the Library except areas reserved for special collections or areas restricted to College personnel.
- Audio-visual, Reference, Reserve, Serials and TMC (Teaching Materials Centre) items may NOT be borrowed.
- You may not place holds on books.
- Information downloaded from online databases, using library computers, may only be emailed, saved to a disc or USB drive. Printing is NOT available in the Avondale College Library.
- All use of library resources must comply with relevant Copyright Legislation.

The Library reserves the right to withdraw permission to borrow or to use its online resources.
